Dr. Blain provides full-time emergency medicine coverage at Harrisburg Medical Center. He also serves as Medical Director for both the Egyptian Public Health Department and the Gallatin County Wellness Center, a school-based health clinic managed by the Egyptian Health Department. In 2010, Dr. Blain received certification to prescribe Suboxone for opioid addiction. Currently, over half of his practice is dedicated to addiction medicine, specifically opiate dependence.

John A. Peterson, MD, completed both undergraduate and graduate training in Internal Medicine at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Until 2016, he was engaged full-time in emergency medicine ending his practice as Medical Director of the emergency and hospitalist program at a critical access hospital in south central Illinois. Dr. Peterson is immediately Past President of the Illinois Society of Addiction Medicine. He is Board-Certified in both Internal Medicine and Addiction Medicine. He served a large methadone clinic in Downers Grove, IL for 10 years. As an early adopter of buprenorphine medication-assisted therapy, he has treated over 800 opioid disorder patients through his private specialty clinic in Champaign, IL. Currently, he is the Medical Director of Chronic Pain Management at the Danville, IL Veterans Administration Hospital. He works with a comprehensive collaborative team of psychologists, physical therapists, interventionists, pharmacists, advance practice nurses, and physician assistants. Dr. Peterson has taken the lead in organizing the VA’s medication-assisted therapy for opioid use disorder as well as developing a fellowship in addictive diseases through the residency program of the school of medicine.

Garry Moreland, RPh, is the co-owner, Moreland and Devitt Pharmacy, and chief pharmacist at Sarah D. Culbertson Memorial Hospital, Rushville. He is a member of several professional associations including the NCPA, Illinois Board of Pharmacies (2001-2005), the American Pharmacists Association, and IPHA where he served as president and chairman of the board from 1998-99.

Thomas Huggett, MD, MPH earned his Bachelor of Science with Distinction in Biochemistry from the University of Wisconsin; Doctor of Medicine from the University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine; and Masters of Public Health from Johns Hopkins University School of Hygiene and Public Health. Working on the west side of Chicago since 1995, Dr. Huggett is a family physician with a passion to provide quality healthcare to residents of underserved communities. Collaborating with other community partners, he works to implement community-based and clinical interventions to improve the community’s health.

Stacy Sattovia, MD, MBA, is a hospitalist and Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine at Southern Illinois University (SIU) School of Medicine in Springfield, IL. She attended medical school at SIU School of Medicine and completed an internal medicine residency and chief resident year at University of Iowa Hospital and Clinics. She serves as the Director of Patient Safety and Quality Improvement for the Department of Internal Medicine and the medical director for the SIU Office of Continuing Professional Development.

Paul Bonucci, MD, MBA, has been an authorized buprenorphine prescriber and treating physician to opiate-dependent patients since 2013. Dr. Bonucci earned his MD degree at Northwestern University and has an MBA from the University of Chicago. He completed his residency at Cook County Hospital and is board certified in Emergency Medicine. In addition to serving as the Emergency Department Medical Director at Illinois Valley Community Hospital in Peru since 2009, he also founded an Urgent Care Center in Princeton in 2011, which was acquired by Perry Memorial Hospital in 2016.

Kevin VanKanegan, DDS, is a native Chicagoan and obtained his DDS degree from the University of Illinois at Chicago, College of Dentistry in 1993. He and his wife, Mona, operated a private practice in Oak Park, IL for 8 years. Subsequently, he obtained a Master of Health Professions Education degree from the Department of Medical Education of the University of Illinois at Chicago. Dr. Van Kanegan was a faculty member at University of Illinois at Chicago, College of Dentistry for 14 years and currently serves as the Clinical Program Director at Midwestern University, College of Dental Medicine-Illinois in Downers Grove.
