What is a Student Aid Report (SAR) or Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and how do I receive one?

The FAFSA is a form that is prepared annually by current and prospective college students in the U.S. to determine their eligibility for student financial aid. After you submit your FAFSA, you will receive a SAR. The SAR is a summary of your responses to FAFSA and indicates the type of financial aid you may receive. To begin the process, go to www.fafsa.ed.gov or contact your school's financial aid office.

What can I expect after IDPH receives my application?

IDPH will evaluate your application for completeness. If your application is complete, you will be considered for the scholarship. If your application is incomplete, you will receive an e-mail stating the component(s) that are missing from your application. This e-mail will also contain a deadline for you to submit the requested information. You will be notified in June 2017 if you are selected or denied for the scholarship.
