We could have prevented the wound from becoming that bad. I am the only staff that does (R1's) skin checks weekly. Whenever I checked (R1's) skin I just looked at his skin. I never separated his butt cheeks to look for wounds when I did his skin checks. (R1) was in a low bed so it was hard to re-position him. (R1) was totally dependent on staff for re-positioning. After I did the Braden Scale for Predicting Pressure Sore Risk Assessment on 2-11-20 and determined (R1) was at a high risk for developing a pressure ulcer, I should have developed and implemented pressure relieving interventions to prevent (R1) from developing pressure ulcers. (R1) did not have any pressure relieving interventions implemented. I am new to this position and thought that the care plan coordinator would implement pressure relieving interventions. (R1) did not have a Braden scale assessment done every week for four weeks after (R1) was admitted to the facility. I am just learning and did not realize the Braden scale was supposed to be done on admission and every week for four weeks after admission. (R1's) skin checks were supposed to be done every shift by the CNA's and were not completed as documented. The first documentation of (R1) having an open area was on 2-2-20.
